This will be the first in a series of multidisciplinary educational events for healthcare providers in Southern California focusing on the care of cystic fibrosis patients. All healthcare providers in Southern California involved with the care of a patient with cystic fibrosis are invited to participate in this program, including:

- Physician specialists such as pulmonologists, endocrinologists, gastroenterologists
- Primary care physicians
- Social workers
- Nurse practitioners
- Respiratory therapists
- Nurses
- Dietitians
- Psychologists
- Pharmacists
- Insurance and care liaisons

The format will include presentations and case studies that allow for active discussion among participants. An emphasis will be on new cystic fibrosis care aspects and how this information is applicable to care in Southern California.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

- Discuss the transitional care process and the role of the interdisciplinary team in management of the patient with cystic fibrosis
- Identify critical areas within the transitional care process that may require additional education, training, and resources
- Identify novel transitional care approaches that are being used to improve the management of the patient with cystic fibrosis
- Summarize and evaluate key discussions and determine how this information can be applied within the cystic fibrosis community in Southern California

MEETING LOCATION AND DIRECTIONS

This educational event will be taking place at the Long Beach Memorial Medical Center:

- Long Beach Memorial Medical Center
  - 2801 Atlantic Avenue
  - Long Beach, CA 90806
